Goltz vs Boltz

In the tradition of great basketball rivalries like Bird vs. Johnson or the Chicago Bulls vs. Detroit Pistons, the Elks National Hoop Shoot has Goltz vs. Boltz. Maggie Goltz and Lakyn Boltz are seasoned veterans of the Hoop Shoot National Finals. Each won the 8- to-9-year-old girls division at the age of 9, and Maggie was also the Getty Powell winner in 2007. This year, the two champions squared off at the National Finals in the 10- to-11-year-old girls division.

THE NOT-SO-FRIENDLY SKIES

The road to the National Finals was a breeze compared to the travel woes and long distances that the participants and their families faced. The Goltz family wasn't even sure if they would make the competition. A combination of President Bush's arrival in Hartford, Conn., which shut down Bradley International Airport, and bad weather left them stranded in Chicago for more than four hours. Luckily, the Goltzes were able to get on another flight and arrived in Springfield, Mass., just as the registration table was closing.

The Boltz family arrived in Springfield without any out-of-the-ordinary travel hazards, but one member did travel across the Atlantic just to make the competition. Kevin Boltz, Lakyn's father, was on business in France and took the seven-hour flight to go directly to the Finals.

After all members of the families arrived safely, they took a trip to the Basketball Hall of Fame to see their names listed on the Elks Hoop Shoot recognition plaque and then went straight to bed for the next day's competition.

GAME TIME

The morning of the competition, Maggie and Lakyn attended the Breakfast of Champions with the other contestants. As returning finalists, the girls put the other contestants at ease by answering all of their questions concerning the contest. After breakfast, Maggie and Lakyn hopped on the buses with the other 70 contestants and headed to the competition.

At the contest, the girls sat quietly watching the 8- to-9-year-olds compete until it was their turn, perhaps remembering their victories in that division. Around 11 o'clock, they took to the floor, each looking to repeat her championship performance. Shooting eighth, Maggie approached the line first, sinking 23 out of 25 shots to take the lead. Next, it was Lakyn's turn. Lakyn stepped up to the line with determination in her eyes, but fell a little bit short, making 21 out of 25 to take second place.

WHEN ALL IS SAID AND DONE

After the competition, the contestants attended the Hoop Shoot dinner and awards ceremony. The stress of the competition was gone and all of the kids were laughing and having a good time. Maggie, Lakyn and the other girls at their table congratulated each other, made plans to go to the swimming pool and exchanged information to keep in touch until next year's Hoop Shoot National Finals.

The mood at the banquet encompasses the true meaning of the Elks National Hoop Shoot. It is not about winning and losing, but about having fun and learning good sportsmanship. Clearly Lakyn has learned something through her Hoop Shoot experience. As she received her silver trophy, she said with a huge smile, "I like the color of this trophy, and it's different from my other one!"

In 2008-09, the Elks National Foundation will distribute $737,514 to fund the Elks National Hoop Shoot Free-throw Program. For more information on the Hoop Shoot or to view complete contest results from the 2008 Hoop Shoot National Finals, visit www.elks.org/hoopshoot.

2008 Hoop Shoot Finals A Success!

On April 26, 72 boys and girls from across the country shot it out in the finals of the 36th annual Elks National Hoop Shoot Free Throw Contest in Springfield, Massachusetts. To see how your favorite finalist fared, visit www.elks.org/hoopshoot/results.cfm.

A Vote for America's Future

It's hard to turn on a television or read a newspaper today without someone telling you how or why you should vote. But for Mike Hostetler, a Gold level donor to the ENF, voting is about more than choosing a politician.

"When I was very young, my grandfather told me that you vote with your money," explains Hostetler. "Philanthropy is just one of many ways to vote for the things you are proud to support."

"It's important that all young people have the opportunity to attend college."

Since joining the Elks, Hostetler has clearly cast his ballot for the Elks National Foundation. He votes for the ENF with more than his donations, however. He also serves as his Lodge's ENF Chair and is a member of the Lodge scholarship committee.

"The youth of America are the future," he says. "It's important that all young people have the opportunity to attend college."

He speaks from personal experience. His son, Brad, graduated from Northern Illinois University and his daughter, Elizabeth, is currently in her third year at Elmhurst College pursuing a degree in Nursing.

"My son attended a state university while my daughter chose to attend a private college," explains Hostetler. "I know firsthand the struggles students face to afford the school of their choice."

A Shining Example

A member of Waukegan, Ill, Lodge 702 since 2003, Hostetler embraced Elkdom from the beginning. He began moving through the chairs the year after he was initiated. His proudest moment as an Elk came when he was installed as ER for his Lodge in April 2007. He recently completed his year as Exalted Ruler.

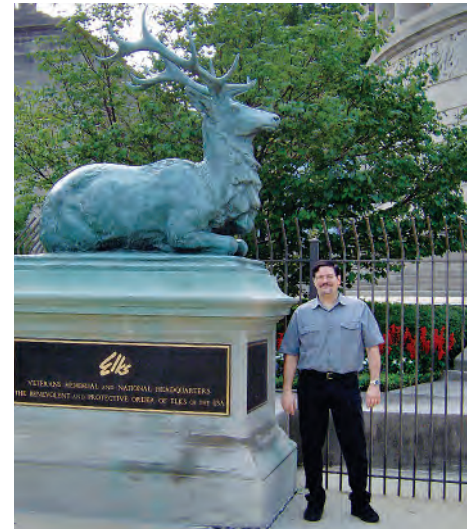

Hostetler credits his fellow Lodge members for introducing him to the ENF. "I had some very good mentors who supported the ENF, and I wanted to join them," he recalls.

It's obvious that Hostetler enjoys the camaraderie of his Lodge and the Order. He views his commitment to the ENF not as a personal one, but as a way to promote Lodge spirit. His tactics seem to be working. His Lodge finished the 2007-08 year with a $155.32 per capita.

"Try and get your fellow Elk members to join with you to make your Lodge shine," Hostetler encourages. "You will be surprised how others will donate with you if you make giving fun."

A Personal Mission

It's no surprise that Hostetler feels compelled to reach out to those in need. The Hostetler family knows a lot about overcoming adversity. When Elizabeth was 10, she was diagnosed with Acute Lymphocytic Leukemia. She beat the disease and recently turned 21. More than a decade after Elizabeth's diagnosis, Hostetler's wife, Debby, was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2006. She is doing well.

Mike Hostetler supports increased help for our veterans, depicted while visiting the Elks National Veterans Memorial in Chicago.

"Just remember, money can't buy you health," he cautions.

Reflecting on his own family's struggles, Hostetler explains that he feels an obligation to help others. The permanent endowment of the Elks National Foundation appeals to him in a special way.

"There's some comfort in knowing that the ENF will still be there long into the future to help our veterans, kids and communities," he explains.

The current plight of veterans in our country is especially close to Hostetler's heart. He worries that our country is unprepared to care for the number of veterans returning from war, and he feels that more support is needed for them and their families.

"In the future, I'd like to see the Foundation do even more for veterans in our country," Hostetler says.

Hostetler's enthusiasm for the ENF is evident. Whether he's talking about scholarships, veterans, or his own commitment to give, it's easy to see how he inspires others.

"When somebody considers a charitable donation, I tell them that the ENF is one of the best places to donate," explains Hostetler. "Then I tell them that making the contribution only hurts for a little while!"

Pinal Mountain Elks Start Blockbuster Event

Two years ago, the only movie theater in the Globe-Miami, Ariz. area burned down. Then, late last year, the only bowling alley closed its doors. There wasn't much left for kids to do to entertain themselves. That is until the Elks of Pinal Mountain, Ariz., Lodge 2809 stepped in.

A New Tradition

At the urging of Kevin Kenney and George Pollock, the Lodge decided that it would use a Promise Grant from the Elks National Foundation to purchase and install a 10-foot-wide motorized screen so that it could host youth movie nights. Thanks to the $400 grant, the Lodge was able to purchase the screen and have it mounted in the Lodge. Once the screen was installed and the Lodge secured some partners, they were ready to begin a new tradition.

"This program now has the support of the whole community—and the Elks made it happen."

Starting in February, the Lodge began hosting monthly youth movie nights. The first movie, "Daddy Day Camp," screened on February 23. To encourage attendance and make the evening both fun and educational, the Lodge arranged for an Air Evac helicopter, a medical ambulance training crew, a Globe Police Department drug dog, and a Globe Fire Department accelerant sniffing dog to join the festivities. And, of course, Bucky the Elk was on hand to welcome the young guests.

Opening Night

The first movie was a huge success! A total of 95 kids and their parents attended. In the coming months, things only got better. In April, 135 people came out to watch "Alvin and the Chipmunks" while enjoying the soda, popcorn and candy available for purchase.

The Usual Travel Ritual

For many of us, spring and summer are the high seasons for travel. Whether it's a romantic getaway or a family outing, vacationing always includes a lot of planning and preparation. We have dates to coordinate and travel plans to orchestrate, and after all this, some forgotten item is often left behind.

For the vast majority of travelers, the trip preparation goes something like this. The resort is reserved, the airline tickets are purchased, and then while checking in at the airport, one spouse may say to the other, "Oh, by the way, have you had our wills prepared?"

The answer invariably is, "I never got around to it." Consequently, the couple hastily prepares a document and hands it to the individual who took them to the airport. "Oh, just in case we don't make it back, here's what we want done with everything."

The will and living trust are probably the most important documents an adult has the responsibility to prepare before traveling. These documents take serious consideration and planning and should not be overlooked. Some important elements to consider are:

- Nomination of an executor qualified to carry out your intentions.
- Nomination of guardians if minor children are involved.
- Informing the executor of all the important information about the estate, including the location of vital documents.
- Explanation of appropriate charitable intentions.

Don't let the travel ritual find you lacking. As surely as you cancel the newspapers and stop the mail, you should prepare a valid will and living trust.

For more information about wills and how to include the ENF in your estate plans, please contact us. We are happy to send you a will preparation guide and provide other resources to help you prepare a document that will meet your needs. Visit our planned giving website at www.elks.giftlegacy.com, or contact Meghan Morgan at 773/755-4866 or meghanm@elks.org.

John F. Malley Society

The John F. Malley Society honors people who have planned gifts to the Foundation. We sincerely thank the following members who, since September 1, 2007, have joined the Society.

Mr. William W. Allen · Mr. George W. Helling

For more information on the John F. Malley Society, visit our website at www.elks.org/enf/MalleySociety.cfm contact Meghan Morgan at 773/755-4866.

Bequests

The Elks National Foundation would like to honor the following remarkably generous people who, since Sept. 1, 2007, have left bequests to the ENF. Though they are no longer with us, their legacy to the future will continue to help expand our philanthropy. To learn more about how you can benefit from leaving your legacy, contact your financial advisor and visit <http://elks.giftlegacy.com>.

ELKS YOUTH MOVIE NIGHT

The Pinal Mountain Elks see no end in sight. “The younger kids had a blast; they enjoyed it very much,” said PER Kevin Kenney. “Teenagers—well they liked it but they won’t tell you that. With the screen in place, we can continue to provide entertainment for the kids and their parents.”

A Greater Impact

Beyond providing a safe activity for kids, the movie nights helped the Pinal Mountain Elks become more involved in their community. While the Elks and the ENF provided the location and screen, the lodge knew it needed to reach out to other organizations to make the endeavor a true success.

And reach out they did! The local cable TV provider supplied the popcorn. Dairy Queen supplied the cups. The Arizona Youth Partnership provided the projector.

And many other groups also lent a hand. “The biggest impact is that a cross-section of the community came together and made the kids movies happen,” said Kenney. “This program now has the support of the whole community—and we Elks made it happen.”

Promise Grants provide reimbursement to Lodges that pledge to host a youth event to help build the character and competence of youth in their community. 2008-09 Promise Grants will be available to Lodges beginning July 1 and will be worth up to $500. To find out more about Promise Grants, visit our website, <http://www.elks.org/enf/community/PromiseGrants.cfm>.

Increase in Gratitude Grants and Promise Grants!

The Community Investments Program keeps getting bigger! The ENF Board of Trustees was so impressed with the good work Lodges are doing that it approved another $100 increase in the program’s Gratitude Grant and Promise Grant amounts this year. Just think of what your Lodge can do with $500! For more information, visit the Community Investments Program website at www.elks.org/enf/community and click on Gratitude Grants or Promise Grants.
