

Springfield, Oregon Elks Lodge #2145 Ren Palo Memorial Scholarship Program

Scholarship Description

The Springfield, Oregon Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks (BPOE) has created the Ren Palo Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship is an annual scholarship awarded to students attending a trade school, or otherwise in training for learning a trade through a qualified training facility in the Eugene/Springfield, Oregon area. Examples of trades are Electrical, Plumbing, Construction, and Automotive fields of study. The scholarship is funded from a memorial fund set up to honor Ren Palo, a long-time member of the Springfield, Oregon Elks Lodge. Ren exemplified the principles of the Elks: Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love, and Fidelity. Ren was always involved with the lodge through many volunteer activities and was a beloved member who inspired many other members.

Applicants may download the application from the lodge web site, fill out the application, and mail the application into the lodge to the scholarship committee. Forms are also available to pick up at the lodge office during office hours (1701 Centennial Blvd, Springfield, OR 97477).

Program Guidelines & Priorities:

Scholarship winner pictures may be taken and used to promote the Elks Lodge scholarship program.

Scholarship winner(s), are requested to be present at any potential awards ceremony to receive their scholarship award.

Scholarship awards of $500 are for the current year only. Applicants may apply for subsequent years for additional scholarship awards. The applications will be reviewed and scholarship winner(s) will be selected by a committee consisting of volunteers from the Springfield, Oregon Elks Lodge.

The normal calendar is as follows:

- January – Scholarship Process opened and applications being accepted
- June 15 – Application process closed and review process begins
- June/July – Scholarship winners decided and announced
- July through the following June – Scholarship winner can request disbursement for expenses

Applications may be downloaded from the Springfield, Oregon Elks Lodge, printed, filled out, and mailed into the lodge, or dropped off at the lodge office during business hours. A copy of the application will also be made available at the lodge office for pickup.
