"Be it resolved that the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in Grand Lodge assembled in the city of Cincinnati does hereby adopt for use at funerals of deceased members of the Order where ritualistic ceremonies are performed, in lieu of the jewel and ribbon presently worn by officers, the sash designed and manufactured by the C. E. Ward Company, of New London, Ohio, which sash is more particularly described as follows:

"A two-piece, lined, black velvet sash three inches wide, to be worn on the right shoulder and under the left arm, embroidered on the front transversely with the letters B. P. O. E. and with the words "IN MEMORIAM" reading down the sash; the sash coming to a mitered point with or without a tassel; the embroidery to be in gold bullion or in gold colored silk.

"Be it further resolved that the donation and tender of such a sash to this Order be and the same is hereby accepted and the Grand Exalted Ruler is hereby authorized to have the same officially copyrighted in the proper office at Washington, D. C., and to take all such steps for protecting this Order in the design and use of said sash.

"Be it further resolved that any Lodge desiring to equip itself with such sashes shall purchase the same through the office of the Grand Secretary of this Order.

Sash is two piece, three inches wide. It is lined with all edges neatly finished. Sash is black with officer's emblem, B. P. O. E., lodge number and words IN MEMORIAM in gold color embroidery. Gold color tassel on end. Made in following materials:
