"In the early days of the Order the Ritual provided for a password to be changed semi-annually. The word adopted at the meeting of May 29, 1870, for the ensuing term was 'Integrity.' "The use of a password was continued for many years. At one time it was changed monthly; during another period it was changed annually, and in 1899 it was abandoned."

Pennsylvania had three U.S. Capitols: Philadelphia, Lancaster on Sept. 27, 1777, and York from Sept. 30, 1777, until July of 1778. In 1800, the U.S. Capitol was in Washington, D.C.

On Sept. 30, 1908, PGER John K. Tener of the Charleroi Lodge umpired a spirited baseball game between a team from Greensburg Lodge No. 511 and the Boston Red Sox, led by Cy Young; the Elks won by 2 - 0.

Born in County Tyrone, Ireland, John Kinley Tener was Pennsylvania's only foreign-born governor, serving from 1911 until 1915. During the same period Tener was also the National League President.
